第四部分：写作部分（40 分）

应用文写作（15 分）

第一节：应用文写作（满分 15 分）

一、评分原则

1. 本题总分为 15 分，按 5 个档次给分。
2. 评分时，先根据文章的内容和语言初步确定其所属档次，然后以该档次的要求来衡量、确定或调整档次，最后给分。
3. 词数少于 60 和多于 100 的，从总分中减去 2 分。
4. 评分时，应注意的主要内容：内容要点、应用词汇和语法结构的丰富性和准确性及上下文的连贯性。
5. 拼写与标点符号是语言准确性的一个方面，评分时，应视其对交际的影响程度予以考虑。英美拼写及词汇用法均可接受。
6. 如书写较差，以至影响交际，将分数降低一个档次。

1. 写信目的；
2. 咨询情况；
3. 期待收获。

(二) 应用词汇和语法结构的情况：

1. 使用与主题相关的词汇；
2. 能够使用恰当的语法结构。

(三) 上下文的连贯性：

Dear Sir,

Having signed up for the study tour program organized by your school, I'm writing to enquire about some relevant information.

My primary concern is the detailed schedule. Could you inform me of the arrangement of activities in advance, so that I can make some preparations. Besides, will we be put up in school dorms or host families? Personally, I prefer the latter, a good opportunity to expose myself to local culture.

I highly expect the experience to be a perfect mix of learning and fun, which will definitely turn out rewarding. Looking forward to your reply.

Yours,
Li Hua

第二节：读后续写（满分 25 分）

三、One possible version

“Do you mean that every flower has its own beauty?” asked my mother thoughtfully. I nodded without hesitation, as if a second wasted could deprive the dandelions of their life. “The same to you,” she added, her voice soft. “Not everyone can be a rose, and it is also an honor to be a dandelion.” Knowing that my mother had realized my pain, I took off the mask that I had worn for the whole lunch time and poured out my unease heartily. She listened to me patiently and patted me on the back tenderly. Suddenly she stopped, as if to say something.

“But you will be a beautiful narrator,” Mom said. She reminded me of how fluently I could deliver my part at home. It was at that time that I understood that maybe I was more suitable for a role backstage like a narrator. From then on, I practiced my lines heart and soul with my mother at lunch time for weeks. And the performance approached ultimately. Standing backstage, nervousness came flooding in me. What encouraged me to overcome it was the inspiration from the beautiful yellow dandelions. The performance that night was eventually a big success. Hearing the thunderous applause, I took pride in my role and firmly believed that even a dandelion had its own beauty.

听力原文

(Text 1)

W: Would you mind helping me move the sofa? I'm tired of it when it's in the way.

M: Can't you see I have my hands full with all this typing? Help me first, won't you?

(Text 2)

M: Do you have an iPad of the new fashion?

W: I suggest you have a look at the iPad mini that's just come in. It's a new design, and it comes in four colors: light green, dark blue, black and golden.

M: It will be just OK then. Brown and the similar colors are my favorites.

(Text 3)

W: Here's a 100-dollar bill; give me 2 tickets for tonight's show, please.

M: Sure. Two tickets and here's $ 20 for change.

(Text 4)

M: Hey, what are you doing? You can't take a video of me! Get that phone out of here.

W: What are you talking about? I wasn't... Hey, what's your problem? You just made me drop my... Hey! Come back! That's my phone. Somebody help me!

(Text 5)

W: This is a pretty small room to be sharing with someone. Don't you find it a little crowded?

M: Well, I'm used to being a little crowded and noisy. I grew up with six brothers, remember?

(Text 6)

M: What happened to you yesterday?

W: (6) Oh, I fell on the way to work.

M: Oh I see. (6) So that's why you didn't come in?

W: Yes, and I broke my cellphone too, so I couldn't call you. I have to say sorry.

M: Oh, that sounds terrible.

W: It was! (7) But the worst thing was that I tore my best shirt.

M: Oh dear. Well, get well soon and try to be more careful in the future.

(Text 7)

M: Ann, Mum and Dad had a quarrel today.

W: Did they? Why? They knew you didn't pass the math test this time, Tom?

M: No. (8) Because you spent too much money on the presents.

W: But I have to send a Christmas present to our cousin, Jack in Boston. I also promised to buy a scarf for our grandmother. (9) And I needed to get a present for Lisa's birthday. I have a serious reason for it – she is the best friend I have in the world.

M: Dad has lost his job. You forgot that?

W: No. So I have found a way to help our parents. I will start to work for Mrs. Brown next Monday. I will help them walk dogs.

M: Oh. I know they also need a tutor for their daughter and son. (10) I think you can work as the tutor and I can help them walk dogs.

W: Sounds nice.

(Text 8)

M: Good afternoon, madam. (11) My friend told me on Friday that you might have a spare apartment. She saw the information in the newspaper.

W: Yes, I have a spare apartment.

M: Would it be OK to look at the room now?

W: OK. Come in please.

M: Emm ... This apartment looks nice. The living room is really large.

W: It's forty square meters.

M: How much should I pay?

W: $800 a month.

M: What are included?

W: (12) Only gas is included. You have to pay for the electricity and water.

M: Er, can you cut down a little? I've searched a lot on the Internet, and there wasn't so much high rent.

W: As you can see, the apartment has recently been redecorated and completely furnished.

M: Well, that's it. When can I move in?

W: (13) In three days, that's next Wednesday, if you like.

M: That's great.

(Text 9)

W: (14) Welcome to Traveler's Talk. Tonight my guest is Philip who won a thousand pounds to spend on a holiday. Philip, remind listeners how you won the competition?

M: (15) I wrote a poem called The Traveler. It tells the life story of a very old man.

W: Congratulations, Philip.

M: Thank you.

W: Now tell us the journey you've planned.

M: Well, first of all, I asked my family and my best friend to come with me. But my brother has got exams and my best friend says it's too expensive. (15) So I'm going on a tour organized by a travel agent.

W: And when are you leaving?

M: We set off in two weeks.

W: And where are you going first?

M: (16) We start by flying from London to Amsterdam, where we catch a plane to New York. We'll spend three days there and then we travel by bus across the States to California.

W: I expect you're really excited about it.

M: Yes. (17) The part of the holiday I'm looking forward to most is the bus Journey from one side of the States to the other. We are going to see wonderful scenery and I'm hoping to take some good photographs.

(Text 10)

W: The Swiss Alps are known for their good ski runs, but they are also home to the Snow Bike Festival. (18) This year, the third annual festival will take place from January 19th to January 22nd. Who might be interested in going? Mountain bike racers are always eager to find riding opportunities in the winter, when events are hard to find. The Swiss Sporting Center has a huge network of snow biking trails, as well as facilities for hosting large international winter sporting events. Newcomers to the sport may be wondering what a snow bike looks like. There are three varieties of snow bikes, but they all have wider tires than street bikes. (19) Most people are familiar with the mountain bike, or MTB, which has the narrowest tires, at about 6 centimeters. Fat Bikes were introduced in 2014, with tires as wide as nearly 12 centimeters. These wide tires are suitable for snowy conditions, but they aren't suitable for street riding. Fat Bike lovers needed a bike for all seasons. One year later, the mid Fat Bike, or Mountain Bike Plus, hit the market for on-and-off-road conditions. The Snow Bike Festival is attended by both watchers and bike lovers. (20) The festival gives bike companies a chance to exhibit new products. If this year's Snow Bike Festival is as popular as the previous two, you may want to include the bike festival in your Swiss ski adventure plans.
