录音原文：

Text 1

M: Susan, is Craig in the office? I must ask him about these numbers today.

W: Oh, he is out for a meeting. But you can reach him on his mobile phone.

Text 2

M: Nice to meet you. Where do you work, if I may ask?

W: Oh, I work at the University of San Diego.

M: I'm from Saint Louis. How's the weather in San Diego?

W: It's warm most of the time.

Text 3

W: David, are you still teaching Chinese?

M: Yes, and I have an especially interesting class this year. I have eighteen students from different countries.

W: How are they doing?

M: Very well. They are learning a lot, and so am I.

Text 4

M: Where shall we go on holiday this year?

W: Why don't we take a train down to the seaside? Or we could borrow my dad's car.

M: Going to the seaside is a great idea, but I'd like to fly there to save time.

Text 5

W: Bob, can I come to see you at your home tomorrow evening?

M: Sure, but Vicky and I have decided to go shopping tomorrow afternoon. So, call me before you come. Okay?

W: Alright.

Text 6

W: Excuse me, sir. Do I take the train for Sydney there?

M: Uh... when does it leave?

W: At 9:28. Here's my ticket.

M: Oh, let me have a look. Um... yes. Platform Two.

W: Thank you. By the way, what time does it reach Sydney?

M: You should be there at 11:34.

W: Must I change?

M: No. It's a through train.

W: Thank you.

M: You're welcome. Have a nice trip.

Text 7

M: Martha!

W: Roger!

M: What are you doing here? You live in Manchester, don't you?

W: Yes, that's right. I do. But I'm having a week's holiday here.

M: What?! Here in Milan?

W: Yes. I'm visiting a friend. What about you? What are you doing here? Having a holiday as well?

M: No, not me. I'm working. I'm looking for some new shoe designs for the shop.

W: Oh yes. You are the manager of the shoe shop now, aren't you?

M: Yes, that's right. And it's doing quite well.

W: Which hotel are you staying at, by the way?

M: Well, I'm not staying in Milan anymore. I'm catching the train to Florence in half an hour. In fact I must go now. Have a nice holiday.

W: Thanks. Bye Roger.

Text 8

W: How can I help you, Mr. Daniels?

M: Well, I started having headaches a couple of weeks ago and they're getting worse. I can't sleep properly. I feel tired all the time. And the worst thing is my hair is going grey and I'm only 30.

W: I see. Let me ask you some questions. Do you smoke?

M: No. I gave up a month ago.

W: Right. I see you're a salesman. How many hours a week do you work?

M: Normally, I do eight hours a day. But at the moment I'm working at least 10 hours and some Saturdays.

W: That's a lot. What do you do when you want to have a rest?

M: Well, I usually sit in front of the TV with a sandwich and a few beers.

W: Hmm. Do you do any exercise at the moment?

M: Not really. But I'm losing a lot of weight and I don't know why.

W: I think you are suffering from overwork. I want you to eat a wider variety of food and do some exercise. Come back and see me in four weeks and I'll give you a check-up.

Text 9

W: Good evening. In today's program we'll learn about a small island off the coast of Maine from the people living on it. Let's welcome our guest, Mr. Kevin Baldwin. So Kevin, what is it like to live on Frenchboro?

M: Well, life on Frenchboro is different from the way most people are living. There are no movie theatres, clothing stores or restaurants. What we do have is the most beautiful, peaceful island anyone could wish for. There are about fifty people living on it where everyone knows everyone else.

W: Where do children go to school?

M: We have a school where the students have small classes, five or six students with a teacher in a class. Each child is well cared for.

W: Where do you get medical care?

M: There are no medical services on the island. We take care of ourselves and each other to the best of our abilities, and head to the mainland for medical attention. Visitors are expected to keep themselves healthy and bring with them enough medicine during their stay on the island.

Text 10

M: Hello everybody. My name is David Anderson. I'm glad to be invited by the International Student Centre to give you a talk on how to protect yourselves and avoid losses, both on and off campus. First, if you, especially the girls, are in a café or restaurant, make sure that your bag is where you can keep an eye on it. If you want to leave for a while, don't ask a stranger to take care of it. Just take it with you. Second, if you drive, park in a public car park, or at least in a well-lighted area if it's at night. Avoid the quiet dark roads, and don't leave your passport, laptop, or cash in the car. Third, if you have to walk home alone late at night, stick to well-lighted areas. If you really think someone is going to hurt you, go to the nearest house and ask for help. If a car stops to ask for information, just keep well clear of the door. At last, I just want to say that in this country, it is not allowed to carry a knife, or anything that can be used as a weapon, even if it's for self-defense. Actually, this isn't a dangerous town if you're careful enough.
