Dear Paul,

Sorry to know that you are being troubled when taking online classes. Actually, I have been there and here are some tips working well for me.

First, it takes self-discipline to fully engage in online lessons, so try to remove any kind of distraction from your desk when learning. Taking notes also helps you stay focused. Second, follow the class schedule strictly as if taking regular classes at school. Another good way is to pair yourself with a classmate who can help monitor your study.

Everything is bound to come back on track and hope we will enjoy classes at school soon.

Yours,
Li Hua

第二节:读后续写(满分 25 分)

One possible version:

Suddenly, something went wrong: Cristian fell to the ground. Seeing his pale face, I stiffened, totally not knowing what to do. Luckily, someone called 911 and Cristian was pulled into the ambulance, and I saw his unconscious face drooping over the white sheet. I had never seen a situation like this before and I was guilty, not only for buying the beer but also for the risks I put him at. Later I was told Cristian's condition was serious, but fortunately he didn't suffer any permanent damage. The whole night found me tossing and turning, worrying about the mess I had caused.

The next day, I was called to the program director's office. He asked if I bought the alcohol. I knew that there was no point in denying the truth. So I admitted everything that happened. Like a caught criminal, I was overcome with shame. My punishment was much less than what I deserved: I was merely expelled from the program. Back home, I shredded the fake driver's license and threw it away. Through this experience, I learned an important lesson: never do something you believe is wrong just because someone else is telling you to and don't sacrifice anyone's well-being to gain the approval of others.

听力原文

Text 1

M: Hi Jane. I know you're probably busy, but I just wanted to call you to thank you for helping me cook for my brother's birthday dinner. Everybody loved the food.

W: You're welcome. It was my pleasure.

Text 2

W: Is it true? I heard that the council is closing the cheese factory.

M: Yes, well, not exactly. It is only temporary. There was a problem with the machinery.

W: Oh, I'm surprised. I thought it was going to be shut down for good.

Text 3

W: When was the last time you cleaned the apartment? It looks a bit messy.

M: Last Saturday, when Jim and I had a little party.

W: Well, your mom is coming here this Wednesday. Do you want me to help you organize?

M: Oh, it's nice of you.

Text 4

M: I just can't believe you're a police officer, Margo. Isn't it a dangerous job?

W: Sometimes I wish it were a little more interesting. Right now all I do is write traffic tickets. It's anything but interesting.

Text 5

M: Linda, don't put any calls through for the next 30 minutes or so. I'm in a meeting.

W: Yes, sir. But I think the president might try to contact you again.

M: Well, make an exception for him. But only him. Thanks.

Text 6

W: Excuse me. Is this the Lost and Found room?

M: Yes, it is. What can I do for you?

W: I was in the dinosaur exhibit this morning and I took off my gloves when I took photos. I must have dropped them there. Did anyone turn them in? They're black leather.

M: No, no one brought in any gloves today. But if you show me the receipt from your visit this morning, I can let you in so you can go and check. They may still be here.

W: Well, I bought the ticket online. I'll show it to you on my phone.

Text 7

M: Crocker Sporting Goods, may I help you?

W: Hello, it's about a package I ordered from your website. It's being sent to my new home in Chicago, but my move-in date got delayed, so I won't be there. Can my package be sent to my current address instead?

M: Unfortunately, once the package has been shipped, it cannot be rerouted.

W: Well, no one will be there to receive it. Is there anything you can do?

M: Let me call the shipping agent in Chicago and have them hold the package for you. That way your package will remain safe until you arrive.

Text 8

M: Are you excited about the charity tennis match this weekend?

W: Yes, it should be a lot of fun, and most importantly we should be able to get a lot of money for the local children's hospital.

M: How do you plan on getting to the tennis courts in Kings Park?

W: I'll just take the subway there. Traffic can be pretty bad on the weekends, and it might be hard to find a parking space. Right, Desmond?

M: Well, there are usually plenty of spots on Rickard Avenue, and that's just a 5-minute walk from the courts. So, I'll probably drive then.

W: So, do you want to meet for breakfast before the event begins?

M: Sure. I need to be at the park by 9:30 a.m., so let's meet one hour before that.

W: OK.

Text 9

W: So, what made you want to be a sailing instructor, Matt?

M: Well, I spent my summer holidays at my grandparents' by the seaside and my cousin taught me how to sail, but it never occurred to me until my friend suggested I consider becoming an instructor.

W: How did you find somewhere to train?

M: I searched the courses on the Internet. Although there was a wide range of courses at reasonable prices, a lot of the ones I liked were full. Finally, I found this school from an advertisement in the newspaper.

W: And did you like the other people on the course?

M: Well, they were all very eager to learn, and I felt lucky to be in a group like that.

W: Tell me more about the course.

M: It was very hard work indeed, but I learnt so much. After the course was over, the thing I missed most wasn't the early mornings, though there were some memorable sunrises. It was never reaching the end of a day without acquiring at least one different skill. Now I'm qualified. The school has even said I can come back and sail there whenever I want, which is great.

Text 10

Good morning. I'm the manager of the Westfield Sports Center, and I'm here today to tell you all about it.

Now, as some of you may know, the center was closed for a few moments for improvements. We were hoping to be able to open again in July, but the work took longer than planned and we have only just opened now, two months later than expected. We have built a separate gym just for young people aged 12 to 16. Now, as well as the old outdoor swimming pool, we have a new indoor one. It's perfect for serious swimmers to practice for competitions.

As well as the gym and the pool, we have a whole range of other sports and activities that you might be interested in. We have several team sports. In addition to basketball and football, which we've always had, we are now offering volleyball on Saturday mornings. We also have individual sports. We're continuing our program of classes for badminton and tennis and we've just opened a new one for gymnastics.

And we have various dance and fitness classes for young people. In case you're wondering how much it costs to sign up to Westfield, the good news is — it's not very much! To encourage young people to get fit, there is currently a 50% discount on membership for anyone under 18, so tell your parents!
