W: And if there aren't a lot of trees, we can hang up the towels for some shade.

Text 10

Good morning, everyone. Welcome to your first weekend painting class. My name is George and I will be your teacher for the next 10 weeks. Do not worry if this is your first time painting or even if this is your first time doing anything artistic. This course is designed to teach you the basics of drawing and painting. I have been running this course for three years and before that I was a college tutor at Hereford College of Arts.(18) In the first two weeks, you will get familiar with some very important drawing techniques as well as understand how to use the equipment. On week three, I will start giving you weekly homework so you can improve outside of these classes. It's entirely your choice to complete the homework or not. It is not a course requirement, but obviously, it will really help you progress. After week six, you'll be asked to plan a final piece of work. This artwork will require a lot of experimentation. (19) After the 10th week, we will hold an exhibition at a local gallery where you'll be able to invite friends and family to attend. (20)
