Dear Jack,

How is it going? I want you to know I'm graduating very soon, and that I'm planning a trip after Gaokao. I'd like to hear your opinions on two critical matters.

First, I'm still wandering between my travel destinations, which are Thailand and Sanya. I haven't been abroad before so I have concerns like safety, accommodations and travel. However, I hear travel cost in Sanya has skyrocketed, and I don't have a big budget. Besides, I'd like you to recommend affordable restaurants with local features. My mouth is already watering at the thought of all sorts of delicacies!

A thousand miles begins with the first step, as Laozi put it. I believe you feel so too and I'm looking forward to your early reply.

Yours,

第二节（满分 25 分）

【参考范文】

In my hundreds of hiking trips, I have never experienced such a difficult situation as now. I have suffered from physical pain, and my willpower has gradually been worn away. However, the kindness of the hotel owner has made me feel like a spring breeze, which has further strengthened my determination to persist in hiking. After hearing that I wanted to continue, the boss and other people in the hotel expressed their support, but in order to ensure my safety, they were willing to continue with me, so we formed a small team and began to march towards the top of the mountain.

At this moment, the sun was falling, and the top of the mountain was golden under the rising sun. Looking at this beautiful scene, I suddenly felt that all the hardships I had experienced before had disappeared at this moment. I had achieved my goals and aspirations. Suddenly, I felt a bit dizzy. I staggered back for a moment, and supported me forcefully with both hands behind my back. I was the hotel owner, and perhaps there was nothing more satisfying for me than now. I had the sense of conquest to climb the top of the mountain, and the sense of fulfillment to be accompanied by friends. These are all my most precious assets.
