Book the hotel. B. Look after Alan. C. Play in the concert.

W: Well, I'd better be going. My train is about to leave anytime now.

M: Right.

W: It was nice meeting you. Thanks for coming to see me off.

M: That's all right. It was nice meeting you, too. I really enjoyed the concert. I think it went really well. All the songs you sang last night were great.

W: Thank you, and thanks for being so helpful — booking the hotel and everything.

M: It was my pleasure. I should thank Alan. If he hadn't been ill, I wouldn't have had this chance to help organize the concert and to meet you.

W: Oh, yeah. Give my regards to Alan. I hope he'll be better soon. Well, I'll be off, then. I'll see you around.

M: OK, see you.

W: Mr. Baker, could I possibly use your phone? Ours doesn't work. Judy is ill, and I want to call a doctor.

M: Sure. Come on in. Hope everything's well with Judy.

W: What's so funny, dear?

M: Look here! A small country town in Australia decides to change its name for a month.

W: Really? Just for a month? Why?

M: For road safety. The town is called Speed, in the countryside of Victoria. Now, the people living there want to change it into Speed Kills. They hope the drivers passing the town will slow down a bit when they see the road sign.

W: That sounds like a really good idea, doesn't it?

M: Mmm. The idea was put forward by the Victoria Transport Accident Office. It soon won over 45 people in Speed. They even made a video which has already become a hit on the Internet!

W: It's interesting to see what will happen then.

M: A local farmer called Phil Down wants to change his name, too. He'll be called Phil Slow Down. He wishes the idea would catch on around the world.

W: I hope it works well.

M: Why don't you like going to the cinema?

W: Well, there are too many problems.

M: Like what?

M: Welcome to London this December! There's plenty going on this month. For example, on 1 December, London's West End, the capital's best shopping district, has its largest ever traffic-free day. More than a million visitors are expected to shop and enjoy various activities while Oxford Street and Regent Street are completely closed to cars and buses. Shoppers will be able to move around the streets, visiting our famous department stores, and having a bite at one of the many cafes and restaurants in the area. Trafalgar Square's Christmas tree, a gift to London from Norway, will be lit at 6 p.m. on 6 December to the sounds of traditional Christmas songs. Then, every evening from 10 December until 23 December, 5 p.m. this beautiful setting. Lastly, ring in the New Year with fireworks will be set off at the British Airways London Eye, they can be enjoyed from across London and will also be broadcast on television at the same time. Then, just a few hours later, come out and see London's colorful New Year's Day parade, when marching performers from around the world pass through the capital's streets. Enjoy your time in our city.

2.3 主旨大意题

3. What does the speaker talk about? (2017.9 第20题)

W: Hello, everyone. In today's program, I'd like to share a true story of mine. One day, my friends and I had just finished lunch at a hotel when it started to rain heavily. When it became lighter, I decided to brave the rain to get my car and go home. It was parked three blocks away. My friends argued I shouldn't go because at that time, I was due to give birth in three months. I promised I'd be very careful. One of them wanted to come with me, but I insisted she stay with another friend who needed help with her baby. When I walked to the first crossroads, a taxi stopped and a passenger came out with an umbrella. Before I knew what was happening, he walked right beside me and told me he would walk with me to where I would go. I refused, but he insisted. During our walk, he kept telling me to walk slowly. When we got to the car park, I thanked him, and we parted ways. I did not get his name and may not even recognize him now. Did he purposely stop for me? I'll never know.

Hello. Welcome to the program. In America, May and June are the traditional months for graduations. A listener in China, 17. Wang Ming, who is about to get an engineering degree, wants to know how American college graduates find jobs. Right now, the answer is: not very easily. A latest study on the 18. college job market showed that employers wanted to hire 22% fewer graduates this year than last. The study also showed that 19. just 20% of those who looked for jobs before graduation have found one by now. This is compared to half of students who had looked for a job by this time two years ago. But one difference: fewer of this year's graduates have started to search for jobs. 20. Engineering graduates were more likely to have started their job search already, and to have accepted a job. This is among the best-paid professions for people with just a college degree. On average, engineering majors expect to start at about $62,000 a year.
