W: Hey Jack! How are you doing? I need a little favour.

M: Yeah, what is it?

W: Actually I was planning to watch this movie 'X for Lavitta' this weekend. An office friend spoke very highly of it. I thought I should take an opinion before watching, because I really do not want to waste my time watching an action-packed drama with senseless butchering of people. Even if it is an action movie, there should be a story to connect. So tell me, have you watched this movie?

M: Yeah, it is a wonderful movie, directed by Leo Williams. He has also worked on Forest Wars and The Jupiter Trilogy. David Carlos has played the character exceptionally well. Once you have watched the movie, you cannot even think of any other actor filling the role. It has got a very exciting story line as well.

W: I knew it beforehand that you could give me such an in-depth review. I will certainly watch it now. Thanks a lot.

W: Great. I have got good news to tell. My wedding has been fixed and it is in next week only, so I was just wondering if you could come.

M: Congratulations! I would love to. What day is your wedding on?

W: It's on March 23rd.

M: Great. What day of the week is that?

W: It's Wednesday. The marriage ceremony will begin at half past two in the afternoon. All the guests are expected to arrive by two.

M: I will be there by two for sure. By the way, how is the weather there? My wife has not been keeping well lately.

W: Do not worry about the weather. It is always pleasing here. The summers are not hot and rains are not very stormy.

M: Good to hear that. I am looking forward to seeing you there.

W: Sure. Let's catch up on the big day. Bye.

M: Bye. Take care.

I was part of the sandwich generation with one child in college, one graduating from high school and one in middle school, all the while taking care of my aging mom who was having major health issues at the time. I was working as a third-grade teacher after taking a break to stay home with my kids. After a few years, I started having physical health problems and my stress level was through the roof. This wasn't what I wanted to be doing anymore, but I had no idea what I did want. So with the support and encouragement of my husband and family, I took a job in an independent school working in fund raising and communications. Soon I found myself excited to connect with the families and patients. I started meeting with different professionals to explore career options in medicine or social services and took time to review course lists at universities. I decided on an online Masters in Social Work program at Boston University. I quit my job, took a leave of absence midway through to care for my mom who was having health issues and completed the program in three years. I now have a private practice, where I help patients with stress and anxiety, and enjoy my life again.
