写作范文

Dear Jack,

Sorry to learn that you are not feeling well recently. As for how to keep slim and fit, I do have some useful suggestions.

As we all know, exercise is important for anyone who wants to be healthy. Joining a sports club will help you form a good habit of regular exercise. Besides, it is highly recommended to go on a diet. If you find it hard, make a detailed and actionable plan and carry it out. For example, quit dessert after meals and choose smaller plates and bowls. What is the most important is enough sleep. As a teenager, 8 hours of sleep a day is the least to keep you fit. What's more, try not to stay up till after 11 o'clock at night.

No pains, no gains. If you follow my advice, you will soon find all this is worth your effort. Best wishes!

Yours,

Li Hua

书面表达评分标准

(一) 评分原则

- 1、本题总分为 15 分，按 5 个档次给分。
- 2、评分时，先根据文章的内容和语言初步确定其所属档次，然后以该档次的要求来衡量，确定或调整档次，最后给分。
- 3、词数少于 80，从总分中减去 2 分。
- 4、评分时应注意的主要内容为：内容要点、应用词汇和语法结构的数量和准确性及上下文的连贯性。
- 5、拼写与标点符号是语言准确性的一个方面。评分时应视其对交际的影响程度予以考虑。英、美拼写及词汇用法均可接受。

听力原文

(Text 1)

W: John, I was going to ask you if you wanted to go to the movies with me this weekend.

M: I'm actually supposed to go out with my parents. It's my dad's birthday, and they invited my sister and me to go skiing.

W: Well, how about next weekend?

(Text 2)

M: How was the restaurant where you ate last night?

W: The food was quite good, but the prices were shocking.

M: I know. It's difficult to find a restaurant that has both good food and reasonable prices.

(Text 3)

M: Look! The astronauts have a very similar appearance.

W: Well, they look like brothers, but one is from Beijing and the other is from Shanghai.

(Text 4)

M: Is this a good spot to put up the tent?

W: It looks a little too rocky to me.

M: You're right. Let's look for another place.

W: How about over there?

(Text 5)

W: Excuse me, please. I ordered a cheese sandwich. This is a cheese hamburger.

M: Sorry, madam, but I very clearly remember you ordering a cheese hamburger. See, I wrote "cheese burger" on your check.

W: Oh, I am sorry. I will have the cheese hamburger then.

(Text 6)

W: Thanks for stopping. Sometimes it can be impossible to get a taxi in the rain.

M: No worries. Where to?

W: I'm going to Fifth Avenue and East 22nd Street. No rush at all.

M: That's good because it looks like we can't move more than a few feet per minute!

W: Well, that's what happens when it rains during rush hour. I'm one of the lucky ones. Usually I would have an appointment around this time, but today I get to go home early!

M: That's great, madam. I'll try to get you home as early as possible.

(Text 7)

(A knock at the door.)

M: Come in please. The door is not locked.

W: Hello, Bill. Sorry to interrupt you. I thought you might be reading books.

M: Not really. I always keep the door closed when I am listening to music. My parents cannot bear my doing this. You know, generation gap!

W: It's the same with my parents. We are on the same boat. By the way, what kind of music do you like?

M: Country music. I have joined a country music band in my school.

W: Wonderful! Do tell me if your band is putting on a show.

M: Sure. What kind of music do you care for?

W: Jazz. I used to love rock 'n' roll in middle school, but now I feel it's too noisy.

(Text 8)

W: Dad. You love me, don't you?

M: Of course, I do. Why do you ask... Ah, what's on your mind?

W: Well, I saw this great offer for a free cellphone here in the newspaper, and...

M: Free? Why do you need a cellphone anyway?

W: Dad. All my friends have one, and I can use it to call you in case the car breaks down.

M: Ah, I don't know. There are always so many fees.

W: But the monthly charge for this service is only $29.99, with 1,000 free weekday minutes nationwide, and unlimited weekend minutes. Plus, unlimited minutes anytime for anyone using the same service.

M: I don't know.

W: And you can roll over the extra minutes to the next month instead of just losing them. What do you think of that?

M: Yeah, but what is the length of the service agreement?

W: It's only half a year. But you won't have to worry about me while I'm driving the new car.

M: Teenagers! What do they think of next?

(Text 9)

W: To start with, tell me about your education, please.

M: All right. I shall graduate from Columbia University of Foreign Studies next year. I major in international trade.

W: Are you single or married?

M: I'm still single. I'd rather secure my career before settling down in a family.

W: That's the kind of man we are looking for. Our promotion work needs much travel. So, do you mind many business trips? There will be six to ten times travelling abroad a month.

M: Six to ten? Oh, that is indeed...

W: OK. So I would say this work is indeed demanding.

M: Er...I think it will be a challenge for me, but I am glad to take it.

W: It has been pleasant talking with you. We'll inform you of our final decision within three days.

M: Thank you, Mrs Hudson, for your interview with me. I hope to see you soon.

W: Goodbye.

(Text 10)

M: Now, class, please be quiet. I have an announcement to make. Tomorrow we are going on a field trip to the countryside by bike. We are going to meet at the school gate at 7 o'clock in the morning and then leave for the countryside. There we will camp in the forest and observe a lot of animals. After various team activities and competitions, some of us will also have the chance to ride a horse. If you wish, you can also go fishing or boating, although you may need to pay some extra fees. There are also some pieces of advice that you need to take. Safety comes first. Stay away from the thick part of the forest, because there are some wild animals there. Also, do not bring matches and make a fire in the forest, because if something is lit, you may cause a wildfire. Do not throw litter about. Let's have fun tomorrow and also be safe.
