Sports Meet Fired Passion on Campus

The annual school sports meet for the year 2022 finally came, and the whole school was plunged into a recreational, sporting atmosphere. The event began on the 28th and closed on the 29th of October.

On the morning of the 28th, all the teachers and students in their sportswear gathered for the opening ceremony, where each class staged a creative and praise-worthy performance, a long awaited traditional highlight. Immediately after that came the track and field events, including relay races, high jump, long-distance running and so on. Challenging as these events were, all the athletes gave full play to their willpower, showing their positive sports spirits and enjoying the enthusiastic cheers from the audience.

The sports meet was a great success, with nine records broken. And it was also a success beyond winning competitions. Not only did it witness students' passion for sports, but it also exhibited their collaboration and team spirit.

I couldn't think of anything to give a response, feeling embarrassed. I could feel blood rushing into my face and I was really eager to find a hole to hide myself in no time. Much to my surprise, Evelyn added that she thought it was cool when I talked to my parents with my hands. I breathed a sigh of relief. "Do you really think so?" I asked cautiously, still in doubt. Evelyn nodded with a serious look on her face. "It's like a secret code. Would you teach me some sign language, please?" Staring at her with confusion, I hesitated.

"My new neighbor with a fantastic garden uses sign language too." Evelyn explained. "Maybe I can surprise her with a greeting next time I visit her." Admiration mixed with eagerness could be sensed in her voice. I felt a great weight taken off my mind. "Why not?" How foolish I was to have been worried about my family being different from everyone else's. I turned to get my parents' attention. "Mom, Dad," I said, signing, "I'd like you to meet my friend Evelyn and her mom. Can I invite her to come over tomorrow?"
