第二部分:阅读理解(共两节, 满分 35 分)

第一节(共 10 个小题; 每小题 2.5 分, 满分 25 分)

阅读下列短文, 从每题所给的 A、B、C 和 D 四个选项中, 选出最佳选项, 并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。

A

Recently I started discovering one thing which amazes me so much: how perfect everything is in the world we are living in! Just look, all day long we are busy working and just when we get tired, the night comes in, so we may sleep and relax. One day we may enjoy the bright sun and another day, when we get tired of the sun, the rain pours down.

A few months ago I was so happy with my life. Later, I got tired from the happiness. I wished I would have some trial to strengthen my character and learn something new about life. I got what I wanted. Shortly after I got severe angina (心绞痛), so I had to stay home for several weeks. During this period I had time to rethink my life and discover myself. The lessons were terrific, but I felt grateful for this time.

Another example: I have a friend, who primarily thinks about having fun. Once I thought why we get along well with each other and what in me attracts her. A couple of days ago I found the answer. I like calmness and silence. She likes noise and agitation (热闹). We attract each other just to balance ourselves, in other words, to give some drive to me and some calmness to her!

So remember that the universe is so wise that it will try to balance you. As for me, this is perfect because extremes create suffering: too much food — too little food, too cold — too hot, too much fun — too little fun.

21. We can learn from the first paragraph that the author_____.
- A. always feels down on rainy days.
 - B. always tries his best to do everything.
 - C. is amazed at the changes in life.
 - D. feels happy with everything in life.
22. The example given in the third paragraph is to show that_____.
- A. it's necessary to get along with different people.
 - B. a person shouldn't just think of fun in life.
 - C. there exists a kind of balance in life.
 - D. one should put others' interests above his own.
23. The author would probably agree that_____.
- A. we should be nice to others and ourselves.
 - B. we shouldn't go to extremes in life.
 - C. we should adapt ourselves to changes in life.
 - D. life can be annoying sometimes.

The days of having to remember your ID could soon be a thing of the past. The famous tourist town of Wuzhen, China, is now using facial recognition technology to act as its entry pass through the gates of the attraction. The system uses cameras to notice people as they approach the entry, and checks these against a database of registered visitors within a few seconds. The technology is thought to be up to 99.77 percent accurate and able to distinguish people better than a human.

Wuzhen is a popular tourist town with visitors going there in large numbers to see its stunning river system and museums. Baidu, a web firm often referred to as “Chinese Google”, created the system. When people now check in to their accommodation, they will have their photo taken and uploaded to a central database upon leaving and re-entering the town, the system will re-check that they are still a guest at a hotel, before allowing them back in.

The technology is being used to track the 5,000 visitors that stay in the town's hotels every day. Yuan Qing lin, director of the Institute of deep Learning at Baidu, told The Verge, “With our technology, you don't need to give your ID. When you are approaching a gate, it will take a photo of you and compare that photo to the database.” Wuzhen used to monitor its visitors using a ticket-entry system, but this could easily be abused. It was discovered that some people were sharing their tickets to avoid paying.

Baidu's system is based on neural networks, which can process huge amounts of data — more than one billion faces. As well as recognizing faces, the system can discover facial movements, so it can't be fooled by holding a mask. Baidu is also using the software for employee entry at its Beijing headquarters.

24. What can be learned about the facial recognition technology from the passage?

- A. The technology could soon be a thing of the past.
- B. The technology can match visitor's faces with those in the database.
- C. The technology can be over 99.77% accurate.
- D. The technology is being used to track where the 5,000 visitors are going.

25. Which of the following word can replace the underlined word “stunning” in paragraph 2?

- A. humorous B. awkward C. attractive D. funny

26. How does Wuzhen monitor its visitors now?

- A. By using facial recognition technology.
- B. By using tickets.
- C. By using ID card.
- D. By using a ticket-entry system.

27. What is the passage mainly about?

- A. Chinese tourist town Wuzhen is using facial recognition.
- B. Baidu, a web company, is using the recognition system.
- C. Facial recognition is widely used in China.
- D. Wuzhen is a popular tourist town with many visitors going there to see the system.

There was great excitement on the planet of Venus(金星) this week. For the first time Venusian scientists managed to land a satellite on the planet Earth, and it has been sending back signals as well as photographs.

The satellite was directed into an area known as Manhattan. Because of excellent weather conditions and extremely strong signals, Venusian scientists were able to get valuable information about the possibility of a manned flying saucer(飞碟) landing on Earth. A press conference was held at the Venus Institute of Technology.

"We have come to the conclusion, based on last week's satellite landing, "Prof. Zog said, that there is no life on Earth. "

"How do you know this?" the science reporter of the Venus Evening News asked.

"For one thing, Earth's surface in the area of Manhattan is composed of solid concrete and nothing can grow there. For another, the atmosphere is filled with carbon monoxide and other deadly gases. and nobody could possibly breathe this air and survive.”

“Are there any other sources of danger that you have discovered in your studies?”

“Take a look at this photo. You see this dark black cloud staying over the surface of Earth? We don't know what it is made of, but it could give us a lot of trouble and we shall have to make further tests before we send a Venus Being there.”

“Over here you will notice what seems to be a river, but the satellite findings indicate it is polluted and the water is unfit to drink.”

“Sir, what are all those tiny black spots on the photographs?”

“We're not certain. They seem to be metal particles that move along certain paths. They give gases, make noise and keep crashing into each other.”

“Prof. Zog, why are we spending billions and billions of Zilches to land a flying saucer on Earth when there is no life there?”

“Because if we Venusians can learn to breathe in the Earth atmosphere, then we can live anywhere.”

28. What tone did the author use when writing the text?

- A. Serious B. Aggressive C. Humorous D. Frustrating

29. What problem on the earth did the author mention apart from air pollution?

- A. Over population. B. Global warming. C. Damaged forests. D. Heavy traffic

30. Why did the author write the passage?

- A. To tell us a dream of Venusian scientists.
B. To discover the secret of life on other planets.
C. To persuade people to try living on the earth.
D. To remind people on the earth of some crises.(危机).

If your loved one is in hospital during a holiday, there are many things you can do to brighten his spirit and improve his recovery by visiting during his hospital stay.

31

This doesn't mean you should bring an entire feast including a twenty-pound turkey, but it does mean that you should include your loved one in the holiday spirit. 32 For some patients, food and drink is not permitted, but for others, a plate of the Thanksgiving feast would be a welcomed change from hospital food after surgery.

Decorate the room

Will your loved one be in hospital for a long stay? 33. A tiny Christmas tree drawn by a grandchild will brighten an otherwise boring hospital room.

Take a present

34 Again, they are not permitted to eat or drink while in hospital, so be sure that your gift of food is proper before delivering it only to find that the nurse takes it away. Avoid flowers as many patients are allergic to flowers and some areas of the hospital ban flowers completely.

Bring their hobby to the hospital

Some hobbies don't travel well, but others can easily be brought to the hospital. Many people enjoy catching upon their reading while in hospital, so books and magazines are welcome. 35 Great gifts for the hospital focus on comfort and passing the time and are suitable for the patients.

- A. Ask the nurse how your lovely friend's health condition is.
- B. If so, a few decorations might be proper.
- C. A small gift for patients in hospital can be meaningful and brighten their spirits.
- D. Bring the celebration to the hospital.
- E. However, bringing an instrument probably isn't such a good idea.

第二节：概要写作（满分 25 分）

阅读下面短文，根据其内容写一篇 60 词左右的内容概要。

Among all the fast growing science and technology, the research of human genes, or biological engineering as people call it, is drawing more and more attention now. Discussions about it are increasingly heated around the world.

The greatest thing that gene technology can do is to cure serious diseases that doctors at present can almost do nothing with, such as cancer and heart disease. Every year, millions of people are murdered by these two killers. And to date, doctors have not found an effective way to cure them. But if the gene technology is applied, not only these two diseases can be cured completely, bringing happiness and more living days to the patients, but also the great amount of money people spend on curing their diseases can be saved. Therefore, it benefits the economy as well. In addition, human life span(寿命) can be prolonged.

Gene technology can help people to give birth to more healthy and clever children. Some families have genetic diseases. This means their children will for sure have the family disease, which is a great trouble for these families. In the past, doctors could do nothing about genetic diseases. But gene technology can solve this problem perfectly. Scientists just need to find the wrong gene and correct it, and a healthy child will be born.

Some people are worrying that the gene research can be used to create human beings in large quantities. In the past few years, scientists have succeeded in cloning animals such as mice, sheep, and dogs; therefore, these people predict that human babies would soon be cloned(克隆) and that it would be beyond control, leading to some disastrous consequences. But many believe that cloned babies will not come out in large quantities, for most couples in the world can have babies in a very normal way and they also believe the governments will control gene technology and make laws to make sure the gene technology will help improve our lives instead of harming us.
