

知识产权声明

感恩遇见，相互成就，本课程资料仅供您个人参考、教学使用，严禁自行在网络传播，违者依知识产权法追究法律责任。

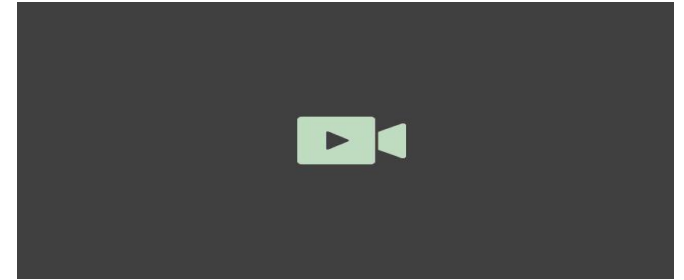

更多教学资源请关注
公众号：溯恩高中英语

SPACE EXPLORATION

Listening and speaking

PD

PART

Lead-in

How can we "friend" with it?

The universe

giant

dangerous

astronaut

mysterious beautiful

attractive

Lead-in

Can you recall some astronauts at home or abroad?

This is because there is no gravity in the universe.

Thus, Yang cannot adapt to the gravity on earth immediately.

Lead-in

Can you recall some astronauts?

What's your criteria?

the job of

What's astronauts

Good education?
flying experience?
excellent health?
rich knowledge?
special training?

sure for the

Jing: the for three

P

T

PART

Listening

Listen for the basic information

潮恩教育
www.sunedu.com

1. The conversation happened in a stadium. F

Welcome to our show.

studio

2. The audience is curious about how Yang Liwei became the first Chinese astronaut. T

3. Mr Yang always believed that he would become an astronaut one day. F

never

I never thought...

3. Mr Yang was selected to attend pilot training with 13 other people. T

Altogether, 14 of us were chosen from...

4. To become an astronaut in China, you have to have 1,350 hours of flying experience. F

I had 1350 hours ..., which I think really helped me.

5. Astronauts not only had to learn how to use space equipment, but also had to do a lot of mental and physical training.

T

Listening Listen for the detailed information

1. Yang Liwei graduated from college at the age of 22.

2. Before he joined China's space programme, Mr Yang trained as a fighter pilot for 10 years.

Attention:

3. Mr Yang was one of the 14 pilots who were chosen to train for space flights.

4. At the time which Mr Yang entered the space programmes, astronauts had to be shorter than 172 cm in height and less than 70 kg in weight.
Pay special attention to big numbers as well as those that sound quite similar such as thirteen and thirty, fourteen and forty, etc.

5. Mr Yang became China's first astronaut when he was 38 years old.

Listening

Listen for the requirements

潮恩教育
www.sunedu.com

1. What degree should an astronaut get?

A. high school degree

B. college degree

C. master degree

2. What experience should an astronaut have?

A. 1,350 hours of flying experience

B. be a master

C. rich experience of fighter

3. How many courses should an astronaut learn?

A. 2

B. 3

C. 4

4. What special training should an astronaut experience?

A. using space equipment

B. physical and mental training

C. both A and B

5. To be an astronaut, the following health condition should be contained, except

A. physical health

B. mental health

C. proper body shape

D. good appearance

03

Discussion

PART

Discussion

湘国教育

1. We know it is extremely difficult to be an astronaut, but why are there still many people are making efforts to be an astronaut?

2. Do you want to be an astronaut? Why?(based on the requirements)

3. To be or to be like an astronaut, what should we do now?

