

B2U2 An Interview

Reading

Welcome to the Olympics

- Challenge your memory.

How much do you know about the Olympics?

- 1. Which country started the ancient Olympics?
 Greece B. America C. South Africa
- 2. What was rewarded to the winners in the ancient Olympics?
A. Medals B. Money  Olive wreath
- 3. When and where did the modern Olympics begin?
A. 1896; Olympia  1896; Athens
C. 1900; Olympia D. 1900; Athens
- 4. What events are held in the modern Olympics?

Ball Games

football (soccer)

basketball

baseball tennis volleyball

table tennis badminton

The Pride of China

Track and Field

pole jump

hurdling running

[dʒim'næstiks] Gymnastics

wrestling

Others

shooting swimming diving

weight-lifting

Some Sports Games in Winter

skating

skiing

ice ball

figure skating 花样滑冰

...

The motto of the Olympics:

Swifter, Higher and Stronger.

Knowledge about the Olympics

- 1. Ancient Olympics started in Greece.
- 2. Winners were rewarded olive wreath in Ancient Olympics.
- 3. Modern Olympics began in Athens in 1896.
- 4. Events in Modern Olympics include ball games, track and field, gymnastics, sports games in winter and so on.

The Olympic Games

Ancient Olympics & Modern Olympics

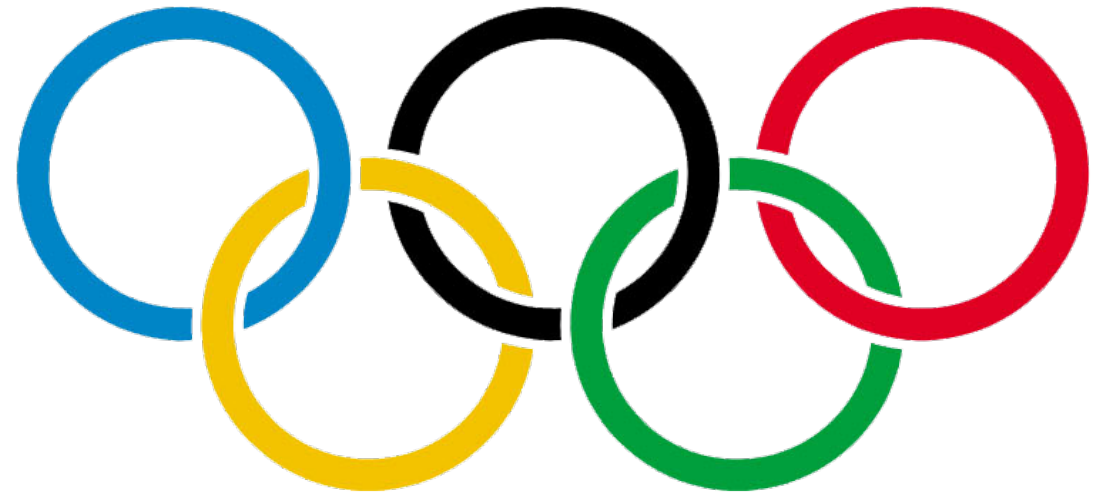

history (origin)

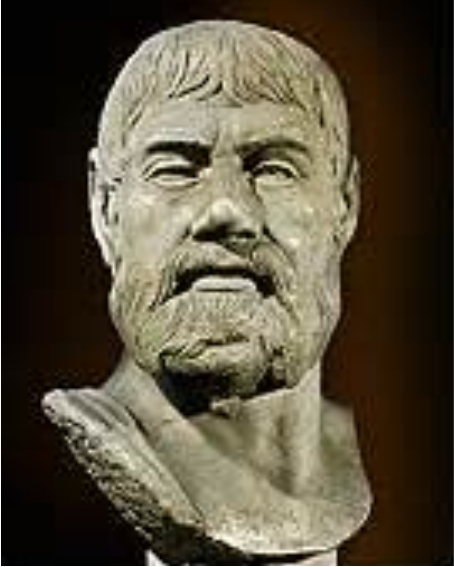

time and place

events

the motto

athletes (Olympic stars) ...

Pausanias, a Greek writer about 2,000 years ago to learn about the modern Olympics

An Interview

Li Yan, a Chinese volunteer for the 2008 Olympic Games

Step 1: Read for structure

1. What questions directly help Pausanias learn about the modern Olympics?

- How often do you hold your Games?
- Where are all the athletes housed?
- Does anyone want to host the Olympic Games?

2. What questions indirectly help Pausanias learn about the modern Olympics?

- Winter Games? How can the runners enjoy competing in winter? And what about the horses?
- Do you mean the Greek world?
- Did you say medals? Do you compete for prize money too?

Step 2: Read for detailed information.

prepared questions:

- How often do you hold your Games?
- Where are all the athletes housed?
- Does anyone want to host the Olympic Games?

time/frequency place/facility host country

unprepared questions:

- Winter Games? How can the runners enjoy competing in winter? And what about the horses?
- Do you mean the Greek world?
- Did you say medals? Do you compete for prize money too?

event athlete prize

1. What do you think of Pausanias as an interviewer?

He's an experienced interviewer.

2. Any more details to show he's experienced?

My name is..., I've come to find out...May I ask you...?

to introduce himself & state purpose

How interesting! Thank you so much for...

to express thanks

Please wait a minute! All those events, all those countries and even women taking part?

to make sure the information is correct

A successful interview often includes:

- ✓ self-introduction
- ✓ the purpose of the interview
- ✓ prepared & unprepared questions (to the topic)
- ✓ thanks

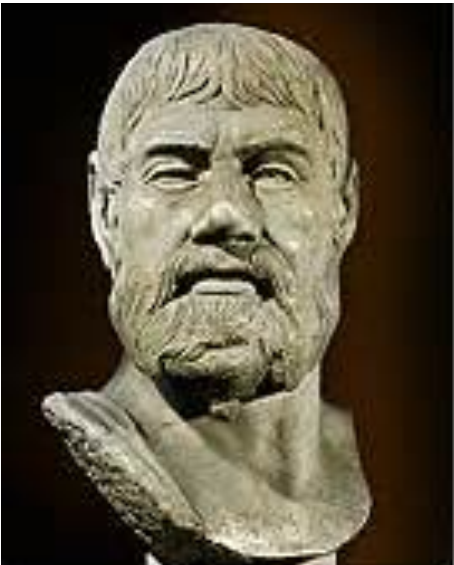

Step 3: Make an interview.

If you were Li Yan, interview Pausanias to learn about the ancient Olympics.

time (how often) event (what) athlete (who) host country
prize

- every four years
- running; horse riding
- no slaves nor women
- Greece
- olive wreath

on a regular basis

reach the agreed standard

be admitted as competitors for the honor of winning compete against...for...

a great responsibility and honor

Step 4: Identify facts and inquire relations.

Similarities & Differences

1.one set of Games

2.no women nor slaves

3.only Greece

1.two main sets of Games

2.athletes who have reached the standard

3.competitors from all over the world

776 BC

394 AD

1896

Ancient Olympics

1.be held every four years

2.have running races

3.no prize money for winners

Modern Olympics

In a word, the Olympics are making progress/developing/improving.

Step 5: Write a paragraph.

If you were Pausanias, after interviewing Li Yan, write an article about the similarities and differences of the ancient and modern Olympics.

❑ The ancient Olympics started in 776 BC while the modern Olympics appeared in the year of 1986.

✓ Although the ancient and modern Olympics share some similarities, they are different in some ways.

fact opinion

an opinion + several facts = a paragraph (to the opinion)

Step 6: Enjoying and evaluating.

Pay attention to the check points:

Is the writing well-organized?

Are the new words and expressions properly used?

Is it creative and attractive?

An article about the similarities and differences of the ancient and modern Olympics

Both the ancient and modern Olympics are held every four years on a regular basis. Running races are included as well. Athletes compete for the motto of the Olympics: “Swifter, Higher and Stronger.” Of course, winners will be awarded no prize money. Although the ancient and modern Olympics share some similarities, they are different in some ways. Firstly, there’s one set of Games in the former while there’re two sets of Games, mainly the Winter and the Summer Olympics in the latter. Secondly, neither slaves nor women could take part before. However, athletes who have reached the agreed standard for their event will be admitted as competitors now. Finally, different from the ancient Olympics, nowadays, every country considers it a great responsibility and honor to host the Olympics.

Both the ancient and modern Olympics are held every four years on a regular basis. Running races are included as well. Athletes compete for the motto of the Olympics: "Swifter, Higher and Stronger." Of course, winners will be awarded no prize money. Although the ancient and modern Olympics share some similarities, they are different in some ways. Firstly, there's one set of Games in the former while there're two sets of Games, mainly the Winter and the Summer Olympics in the latter. Secondly, neither slaves nor women could take part before. However, athletes who have reached the agreed standard for their event will be admitted as competitors now. Finally, different from the ancient Olympics, nowadays, every country considers it a great responsibility and honor to host the Olympics.

In a word, the Olympics are making progress.

The Olympic Games help promote a better and more peaceful world.

The sports help build up a stronger body and improve happiness.

Step 7: Homework.

1. Role play the interview (pair work);
2. Finish writing the paragraph and share a possible version with the rest of the class;
3. Appreciate the improved version of writing and memorize the ways to express comparison(类比) and contrast(对比). (individual work)