参考范文：

(version A)

Dear Peter,

I'm sorry to hear you are faced with a tough choice. You are eager to attend your favourite singer's concert, but you' re anxious about your study. I'm writing to give you some suggestions.

Firstly, it's true that missing one day's classes may make you fall behind in your studies. However,such a meaningful experience can refresh your mind and lift your spirits, which will help you to focus on study later. Besides, you can make full use of your spare time to make up for the missed lessons. If you have difficulty understanding the knowledge, you can turn to your classmates or teachers for help.

So don't let this precious chance slip away. Wish you a great time!

Yours,

Li Hua

(version B)

Dear Tom,

I'm sorry to hear you are faced with a tough choice. You are eager to attend your favourite singer's concert, but you are anxious about your study. I'd like to offer you some practical suggestions.

To begin with, I don't recommend you go for the concert . Firstly, missing classes means you will have great difficulty in making up for the knowledge . It's well-known that high school is of great importance in one’ s life. Besides, you can enjoy the concert online, which is more convenient. If possible, you can go on weekends instead of school days.

I hope my advice will be of some help to you.

Yours,

Li Hua

听力原文

第一节

(Text 1)

M: Which building did you say belongs to the best-selling writer?

W: That big one with the huge grass in front and the swimming pool at the back.

(Text 2)

M: All I want to see today are elephants!

W: I know, I know! I heard you say that while we were looking at the bears. We' ll see them right after we visit the monkeys.

M: Alright.

(Text 3)

M: Helen, I have two tickets for tonight's show. Could you come?

W: I'd love to, but the history teacher will give us a test tomorrow and I haven't got prepared for it.

(Text 4)

M: How many books am I allowed to check out at one time?

W: You can have up to five books at one time. Anything else I can help you with?

M: That's all for now. Thanks.

(Text 5)

M: John is certainly the funniest person in class. He can always make everyone laugh.

W: I'm afraid I still have to get used to his sense of humor.

第二节

(Text 6)

M: It's about a three-minute ride up to the top of Mount Rock.

W: This thing is safe, right?

M: Yes, you don't have anything to worry about. We do about 100 trips a day up the mountain,and these tours have been going on for over ten years without any accidents.

W: That's a relief. What's that lake down there?

M: That's John Lake. It's actually a man-made pond. During the 70's, a lot of trees were cut down in the area, and much of the wildlife was lost. Since John Lake was built, ducks and water birds have returned to the area.

(Text 7)

M: Hi Jane. This is Mike. Did you receive an invitation to the family reunion?

W: Yeah.

M: Are you going?

W:I don't think so. Remember our cousin Bill and I had a disagreement at the last reunion?

M: Yes. But it was a misunderstanding.

W: I know, but I still feel uncomfortable about it.

M:I haven't seen you for a while. If you don't go to the reunion, maybe I can visit you.

W: That sounds like a great idea. Have you ever been to New York?

M: No. I would love to meet you and check out the city.

(Text 8)

W: I am sorry to hear about your illness. How are you now?

M:I have fully recovered. I feel fresh and energetic in the natural environment of the village here.

W: Good. Why did you fall ill?

M: City life is very busy you know. I had to work from day to night to earn enough to cover my costs. I had no time for friends and family.

W: That is why I love to be in the village, a calm, peaceful, natural environment. Everyone has much time to sit with and talk to others. Many mild problems are solved when I pour out my troubles to others. People are simple and honest.

M: You are right. But cities have modern hospitals, universities, banks, factories, and a lot of job opportunities.

W: I know, but everyone has their own choice. I would advise you not to earn at the cost of your health.

(Text 9)

M: Excuse me, I'm on the flight to Chicago. When will it take off?

W: It looks like it' ll be postponed for two hours.

M: I have a 4 o' clock conference in Chicago. If the flight gets in at 3:30, there's no way I' ll make it. Are there any other flights to Chicago?

W: Yes, there's a l p.m. one, but it's fully booked.

M: Can you put me on the waiting list?

W: I' ll add you to the list, but don't hold your breath. There are quite a few people already on the list.

M: Can I fly another airline?

W: Other airlines won't accept your Flyaway Airlines ticket.

M: Oh, let me give you a piece of my mind. This will be my final experience with Flyaway Airlines.

(Text 10)

M: I haven't lived in Bangkok all my life. My family came here when I was 5. A decade has passed and now it is my home. Nearly all my friends live here. It's our capital city, and very big . From morning till night, there are crowds of people on the main streets. Some parts of the city are very noisy.I have a long journey to school every day, but I don't mind because it is not boring at all. There are all kinds of people selling things — fruits, flowers, cooked food, clothes— everything you could imagine. The area where I live is quiet, although the busiest streets are not far away. We have a garden with trees. My parents like it because it is quiet and peaceful, but I think I prefer the excitement of crowded streets and large modern buildings. I like walking around the streets at the weekend with some of my classmates.
